

ABOUT LINDA CHESTER

Linda has been an insurance professional since 1978. Even though she saw the value in having long-term care insurance after obtaining policies for her parents continued to focus her insurance practice on other forms of insurance. When her father became chronically ill, Linda not only helped care for her father but also saw her father's long-term care insurance policy benefits in action. She credits that policy for saving her family. It was during this experience of caring for her chronically ill father that she became inspired to research how to specialize in long-term care insurance so she can help other families.

Linda lives in Pennsylvania and is her mother's primary caregiver. Linda earned a bacteriology degree from Ohio Wesleyan University. She is also a wine consultant and leads walks for one of the neighborhood walking clubs in her leisure time.
